

28/30 The Close, Quayside, Newcastle

The long build up to Michelin stardom

A Grade I listed, 16th century building within the Newcastle Central Conservation Area, The Close lies within Newcastle's historic quayside.

The building provides an object lesson in the problems and pitfalls restoring a very old building can throw up.

Acquired in 1983 it took over 30 years of phased restoration work before a viable use could be found for it. The effort was certainly worthwhile and today the building provides a characterful home to the House of Tides restaurant, operated by Michelin Star Chef – Restaurateur Kenny Atkinson.

Building Managed By: House of Tides Restaurant
